A DAY'S DOINGS IN ARIZONA

GREENE-CANANEA TO USE NAVIVES

TIMBERING AND OTHER CAREFUL
WORK WILL BE DONE BY WHITE
LABOR, BUT MAJORITY OF EM-PLOYES WILL BE NATIVES.

The silence of the once glorious camp is pathetic. There are about 1,200 men, practically all natives, at work in and about the plants and the different mines merely to make necessary improvements, maintain the integrity of the works and vindicate the respective concessions of the owners, says the Review.

The splendid days of the Greene-Scott-White-Kirk regime are a thing of the past. It must be conceded that Greene was the best friend the gringo ever had in Sonora. It is insisted, also, with some showing of logic, that he was better than he could afford to be, considering the character, resources and values in the big mines. When Cananea resumes, which is strictly indefinite, it will do so along native labor lines, with reduced wages. The Colorado management insists that the values in the mine will not, with the present price of copper, justify white wages.

The Greene-Cananea proposes to get down to business, so as to declare dividends and in order to do this they will have to employ the system employed by the Moctezuma Copper company at Nacozari. They have so much more ore in sight, it will average so much with copper at a certain figure, and they know exactly what they can afford to pay to realize a dividend. Under these conditions, it is practically certain that Cananea will gradually resume work until it employs more men than ever before in his history, requiring a greater number of native laborers to perform the same work than it would of skilled Americans.

Cananea, however, will find it necessary to employ more white men than does Nacozari, for the reason that the ground is of a totally different character, requiring in the first named instance a vast amount of timbering and careful work.

Mr. Smith stated that recent work on the ore body had proven its dimensions which are very large. He stated that more than sixty feet of ore had been gone through and that the outlook was very promising for a still greater extent.—Bisbee Review.

THREE TUCSONIANS WHO VIVIDLY REMEMBER THE DAY FORTY-SIX YEARS AGO

"Today is the forty-sixth anniversary of my arrival in Tucson," remarked Fred G. Hughes, yesterday. On the same day, he continued, forty-six years ago, Charley Shibley and Sidney R. DeLong also arrived here. We were all members of the First California volunteers, which, together with other California men, numbered 1,500, 500 being cavalrymen," says the Star.

"The Confederates did not hold out here any time after the California volunteers arrived," added Hughes, who said the old pueblo was an attractive place then to the Californians. There were but few houses, all adobe, on the site where is now Greater Tucson. The main part of the town was north of what is now Congress street. About all there was to be seen was mesquite bushes.

"The guard house," said Hughes, "was located about where Saly Eber's building stands, Meyers and Congress, where once stood the old 'double stamp'."

Asked where "Uncle Sammy" Hughes was when the California soldiers arrived here, Fred Hughes said Sammy had gone to California, but later returned to Tucson. And he is here yet, one of the oldest white men and pioneers of this section.

Sidney R. DeLong was the first mayor of Tucson and Charley Shibley was sheriff of Pima county one term and has been county recorder sixteen or more years. He has had no opposition in recent years.

ROBBED YUMA MAN OF $42.50

YUMA, May 22.—Held up and robbed of $42.50 was the experience of C. O. Connell, a Los Angeles bridge workman, who has been employed for some weeks by the reclamation service as a laborer on the Gravity canal here. Connell was known by many acquaintances to make a practice of carrying a neat roll in his tobacco sack. His habits were sufficiently regular to make him a conspicuous mark for highwaymen. Every evening at 7 o'clock for six weeks he has gone to the public reading rooms and remained there until 8:30, when he would return to the camp on the reservation. Last night he was approaching the government corral when two men sprang from the right side of the road. One tripped and the other dragged him down. A third stood by, but laid no hand upon him. "Don't hurt him. He hasn't a watch, the watchman cried and the men obeyed. They took his money and the three of them ran cityward. He can identify the watcher who spoke, but knows neither of the others.

ASSESSMENT LESS THAN LAST YEAR

BISBEE, May 22.—County Assessor Charles R. Howe and his deputies are busily at work completing the assessment for the year 1936. The majority of the assessments have been turned in and the work of placing them on the rolls will be started within the next few days. The assessor has about thirty days more in which to complete the work and the books will then be turned over to the board of supervisors.

The assessment of Cochise county will this year show a falling off of what it was last year of about $2,000,000 according to the estimate of the county assessor. The mine production fell considerably and the value placed on property in Bisbee and Douglas as well as a number of places was reduced this year by the assessor on account of the prevailing condition of the country. The rolls last year footed up to a little over $20,000,000, while this year it is not expected that it will go much over $18,000,000.

The question of what is considered personal property is causing the assessor considerable trouble at the present time in view of the fact that Judge Nave in his decision on one of the demurrers to the complaint in the Copper Queen back tax case held that the lien did not go to personal property, only real estate, and in order to protect the county the assessor is drawing the line as close as possible. At the present time the question as to whether or not a telegraph line is personal property is giving the assessor considerable trouble, besides a number of others that have arisen since Judge Nave announced his decision so that a number of tax payers are liable to be compelled to pay on personal property which heretofore they have been paying on as real estate, or else put up a bond for its payment until the taxes become due in December.

AUTOMOBILE BREAKS DOWN AND BASEBALL CLUB WALKS

BISBEE, May 22.—The ball team which left here early Sunday morning for Cananea, arrived in Bisbee Monday night about 11 o'clock. The breakdown in the automobile in which the boys went over. The score was 12 to 4 in favor of Cananea.

The breakdown occurred four miles this side of Cananea. All efforts to repair the machine were unsuccessful and the team "hoofed" it into town. They reached the camp about 3:30 and tired as they were, immediately took their places on the diamond.

The return trip was made without accident. The team starting about 3 o'clock and arriving at the hour named. Particulars of the game were not learned.
